DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to the amendment, received 8/29/06.

Claims 1-6 are under examination.

Response to Amendments/Arguments

Applicant's arguments and amendments, filed 8/29/06, are acknowledged and have been fully considered. Any rejection and/or objection not specifically addressed is herein withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is not supported by either an asserted utility or a well established utility.

The instant claims are drawn to a compound destined to cause an immune response in a living organism being the product of the reaction between xanthurenic acid and a protein. Xanthurenic acid is a natural metabolite circulating in the body and would necessarily react with cellular/ tissue proteins. Kobayashi et al. (Chem. Pharm. Bult., 1980, vol. 28, pp-2960-2966) discloses xanthurenic acid is a metabolite of tryptophan , which appears in the urine and blood. See, for example, page 2960.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-6 are also rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph. Specifically, since the claimed invention is not supported by either an asserted utility or a well established utility for the reasons set forth above, one skilled in the art clearly would not know how to use the claimed invention.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites “ a compound destined to cause immune response in a living organism being the product of the reaction...” . This is vague and indefinite as to the reaction. The examiner suggests “ An antigenic compound formed by the reaction...”.

Claim 2 recites “ Compound according to claim 1 consisting of that xanthurenic acid...”. This is vague and indefinite as to the compound. The examiner suggests “ The compound according to claim 1 wherein the xanthurenic acid...”.

Art Unit: 1654

Claims 3 and 4 recites "Compound according to claim 1 consisting of that this protein...". This is vague and indefinite as to the compound. The examiner suggests "The compound according to claim 1 wherein the protein...".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kobayashi et al. (Chem. Pharm. Bult., 1980, vol. 28, pp-2960-2966)

The instant claims are drawn to a compound of xanthurenic acid and a protein.

Kobayashi et al. discloses the interaction of xanthurenic acid and bovine serum albumin (a protein). Kobayashi discloses that bovine serum albumin (BSA) has binding ability with xanthurenic acid (XA). See, for example, abstract and page 2962.

Because the structural limitations are met, the compound must inherently function as claimed.

Therefore, the cited reference is deemed to anticipate the instant claims.

Conclusion

All claims are rejected.
